Access to personalizing your own profile are currently disable to avoid to much stress on our server you see this can add additional stress to the server by means of to many Queries to database. The more people making the queries that slower the site will become. You can put it this way in a supermarket where you purchase a goods and pay your bill you fall-in line the longer the line the longer the wait....it's the same in site the more queries you get the slower the site. Some Hosting will banned your site if it gets to much load on the there server or taking to much resources beyond your own given resources.
