MySpace redirecting me to Google search engine...

Posted by TheDrifter - 2010/01/18 23:58

_____

Why is Myspace redirecting to Google search engine?

One solution is to scan your computer with a spyware,malware or adware program. I've tried using some of the most popular anti-virus out there but nothing works found out that this is some kind of adware which i recently found out it resides in Documents and SettingsUserApplication DataDesktopicon it's name is "eBayShortcuts.exe" so watch out for it. This is very hard to kill if u just scan with a quick scan so try using full scan instead....try using Malwarebytes & SUPERAntiSpyware this are free products not more than 10MB but I think will do the job. Another work around solution is.....not for all solution on Why is Myspace redirecting to Google Search Engine. This is just one of so many procedure depending on your case....If your using a linksys router I don't know if some brand of router out there has this features but particularly in linksys router's try accessing your router's address on the address bar on your browser's the address is 192.168.1.1 then input your username and password of your router if there's any. Then go to "Wireless" Menu then select "Wireless MAC Filter" enable the filter and then again select "Prevent PCs listed below from accessing the wireless network". That's it when you access your browser and type Myspace ctrl+enter h00ray your on Myspace page.....hope this would help.:laugh: :lol:

==========